THE CLAMPERS.—The Austin Reveille says:

Among the Cornish residents of Austin a secret society exists, known as the "Clampers." It is intended for social pleasure, mutual improvement and benefit and general welfare and information. Its origin dates away back in the dark ages. Harry Blinett thus gives it: Some hundred years ago, during the time of the Crusaders, when they were trying hard to wallop the Turks and rescue the Holy Land, in a desperate attack upon Jerusalem, the bravest and most successful soldiers were those who climbed the walls. They became famous for their wonderful exploits in that line, and a fraternity sprang up among them known as Clampers. The English people being described from the lost tribe of Israel, this Order has been perpetuated among them to this day, and the Austin society is simply a branch of the Clampers, the name having been corrupted and changed to Clampers. Last Saturday evening a pleasant little reunion was held by members of the society in honor of the departure of George Hicks, a high officer of the Clampers, for Cornwall. They had music, singing and a very festive time generally, and a presentation of a magnificent and costly large pearl and silver pocket knife was presented to Mr. Hicks in the name of the Clampers. Appropriate speeches were made, numerous songs, choruses and recitations, and the festivities were kept up till past midnight.

The platform adopted at the Iowa Republican State Convention reaffirms the Republican platform of 1880; commends Congress for its action in the contested seats cases before it as "in vindication of an honest ballot and a fair count;" characterizes the administration of President Arthur as "worthy of all respect and commendation;" favors the creation of a Department of Industry; asks prompt measures to protect western cattle from contagious diseases; favors an equitable revision of the tariff; favors legislation to control inter-State commerce and pooling arrangements between parallel and competing railroad lines; advocates renewed effort looking to practical and judicial improvement of natural waterways.

According to the monthly statement of the national debt, that incubus is being shaken from the shoulders of the Government at an astonishing rapid rate. The reduction in July was nearly $14,000,000, which, if maintained throughout the year, would make an annual reduction of $160,000,000. The total debt now remaining, less cash in the Treasury, is in round numbers $1,600,000,000, and the annual interest has been brought down nearly to $10,000,000.

Notwithstanding the vote of Congress, the President will take advantage of the section of the River and Harbor bill which gives him discretionary power in the expenditure of the money and prevent any of it being used on creeks and unnavigable streams.

Reno sent another patient out to the Insane Asylum yesterday. Who's Asylum is this, we would like to know? Reno's, or the State's?—Virginia Footlight.

A. D. Treadway, of Carson, announces that he intends to stand in for the Republican Gubernatorial nomination in this State.

The editor wrote it that "pelicans" were unusually abundant on the Humboldt. The printer put it "politicians."

Many Ohio Democrats are standing in with the Republicans on the temperance issue.

The Star Route gang are spurning freely.

United States Marshal Corbett has not yet qualified. He doubtless thought there was little chance of a Judge being chosen before next winter, and so he was in no hurry. Sabin's appointment was so contrary to Jones' usual line of action that it must have struck the Marshal between wind and water.—[Eureka Leader.]

The above is unfair to Mr. Corbett, because, as has already been pointed out by some of our exchanges, he could not qualify until the District Judge was ready to swear him in.

The Carson Tribune says it now looks as if Judge Leonard would have a clear field for renomination, as there is no other candidate mentioned for in connection with the place. Leonard undoubtedly breathes easier since Sabin was taken out of the way.—[Eureka Leader.]

Either Sabin and Leonard were they candidates, would prefer to know that Judge Rising was not a candidate.

The Eureka Leader very pertinently remarks:

The Republican State Central Committee should raise a special fund to reward Republican newspapers that are now, and have for some time, been busily engaged in extolling the virtues of Democratic candidates.

THE DENVER MINING EXPOSITION.

The National Mining Exposition was thrown open to the public at Denver Tuesday, and a dispatch says the ceremonies were of a character befitting such an event. Denver presented a holiday appearance, business being for the most part suspended, and many of the buildings, both public and private, were gaily and beautifully decorated with the national colors. The procession moved about one o'clock, marching through the principal streets. The sidewalks, windows and roofs along the route were thronged with thousands of spectators. The exercises at the Exposition building opened with playing of "America," by the band, followed by prayer, then, "Hail Columbia," which was received with cheers. Many distinguished persons occupied the platform. Hon. W. D. Kelley was introduced to the audience and delivered the oration of the day. At the conclusion of Judge Kelly's address Hon. H. A. W. Tabor, President of the Exposition Association, in a brief speech, formally declared the Exposition open and started the machinery with his own hand.

The display of Colorado ores is very fine, Leadville and Gilpin county making magnificent exhibits. The younger counties have made extraordinary efforts and have brought out immense quantities of ore. Galena and refined silver largely predominate, yet gold in chlorides is extremely shown. The Utah exhibit is a gorgeous one, arranged, classified and labeled with good taste and intelligence. New Mexico makes a large exhibit, probably twenty-five tons weight of specimens. Silver City and Lake Valley mines have very complete exhibits. Arizona occupies a large space, and has a fine display from Cochise, and adjoining counties. Montana is represented by about four tons of fine ore from Butte District. Wyoming makes an exhibit nearly as large as that of Utah of handsome minerals. Dakota's display is chiefly from the neighborhood of Deadwood, and includes a fine collection of gold and silver ores. Idaho is here with a fine lot of ores from Wood River and other districts. South Carolina sends a few samples, and some other eastern States have small mineral collections. California is absent; not even its Commissioner is there. Space was reserved for its minerals, and unless prompt notification reaches there by telegraph it will be reassigned. It can be held by the Californians acting quickly.

A MISSION FOR YOUNG ASTOR.

President Arthur has nominated William Waldorf Astor, of New York, to be Minister to Rome, vice George P. Marsh, deceased. Mr. Astor was one of the twenty-six in the New York Senate who voted from first to last for the re-election of Mr. Conkling after that gentleman resigned from the United States Senate. Mr. Astor also clung closely to the fortunes of Mr. Platt, and when his chances waned under the blaze of a Half-breed sun, the vote of the appointee to Rome was cast for Crowley. After Astor had failed in his effort to be elected to Congress against R. F. Flower, he sailed to Europe to recuperate from the fatigue of that most extraordinary campaign, and the attractions of the Eternal City proved so fascinating that he gladly accepted the proffer of the Italian mission.

RAILROAD PROGRESS IN 1882.

The Chicago Railway Age has figures showing that the total construction of the main line of railroads for seven months in the United States has been more than 6,000 miles. Should the proportion hold good during the remainder of the year the total mileage built for 1882 would be nearly 18,000, but it is not likely to run over 10,000 miles, although as a rule the heaviest work is done during the latter months of the year.

A MOVING TOWN.

A moving town, which can certainly be classed among the modern curiosities, actually exists at Manitoba. It is called "Boomtown," and can always be found at the terminus of the Canadian Pacific Railroad. When the town is located, building lots are sold at fancy prices, and in a day or two the place contains all the evidences of a bustling, busy place, but with another advance of the construction party the old site is vacated as if by magic, and the lively scenes are transferred to another locality, which is given the same name, contains the same people, and the houses and rents are constructed of the same material that composed the former residences.

It used to be considered a wonderful thing to engrave the Lord's Prayer on a three-cent piece. At the last meeting of the San Francisco Microscopical Society the president exhibited an engraving upon a glass plate of the Lord's Prayer so minutely executed that on the same scale nine copies of the entire Bible could be produced within the space of a square inch.

Fortress Monroe is the largest single fortification in the world. It has already cost $3,000,000 of money. The water battery is considered to be one of the finest pieces of military construction in the world. Models of it have been sought often by European Governments.

One of the biggest steals that has been yearly perpetrated by Congress under the guise of appropriations has been the River and Harbor Appropriation bill. It is a bill over which Republicans and Democrats split party differences in order to get a whack at the public crib. It is the old story of you tickle me and I'll tickle you. John Smith, a Republican jack, is willing to vote a liberal amount for the improvement of a creek in the district of John Jones, a Democratic ass, but Jones must reciprocate. On such a trade the bill is carried through both Houses.—[Eureka Leader.]

One of the most eminent of German medical men is reported as saying that there are not less than 10,000 persons in Germany who have become slaves to the habit of hypodermically injecting morphine. There are many who take as much as eighteen injections every day. Some of them have hardly a square inch of skin on their bodies which is not marked by scars produced by this practice. Slaves of this habit are even more hopelessly enslaved than those who take opium in other ways, and it is speedier destruction.

An Italian has invented a process for solidifying wine. For a small quantity of this extract may be obtained a bottle of wine of good taste and color. The object is to virtual ships and supply armies. A chemist in Marseille has found a chemical combination to which he can solidify and even crystallize brandy. The brandy in its new form looks like alum. It entirely loses its smell.

MOTHERS! MOTHERS!! MOTHERS!!! Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the little sufferer at once—depend upon it, there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give relief to the mother, and relief to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle.

DAILY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL

SATURDAY.....AUGUST 5, 1882.

PRICE OF DAILY JOURNAL,
12½ CENTS PER WEEK.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

Personals.

F. Claggage is stopping at the Depot Hotel.

Judge Sabin and W. W. Bishop, of Eureka are expected to arrive in Reno to-morrow evening.

J. P. Clark, a prominent insurance agent of San Francisco, passed East Thursday morning.

Jas. G. Fair, Jr., and Joe Marks passed through East Thursday morning on their way to Germany.

Billy Jones will, it is said, shortly enter on his duties as a conductor on the C. P. R. R. Good luck to him.

Mrs. H. L. W. Knox, wife of the proprietor of the Lake House, is convalescing to the great joy of her many friends.

Captain Taylor, Hank Smith and young Jimmy Flond came down from Virginia last Thursday evening, and departed on yesterday morning's train.

Charley Youngworth, an old time Comstocker, and resident at the Pollard House, departed yesterday morning on his way to Colorado, where he intends settling down.

Jas. G. Fair, Jr., and Jos. Marks, stock broker of San Francisco, passed through on the train night before last bound on a trip to Germany. Jimmy is a young man whom a German college may and may not benefit.

Mr. Porter, an old timer in Washoe Valley, stopped at Coats' Tavern, a few nights ago and left on yesterday's stage for Susanville. His numerous Reno friends saw him off from before the neat cool front of Coats' Tavern.

BREVITIES.

Caledonian picnic to-day. Everybody goes.

Mexican levied an assessment of $1 yesterday.

Pete Dalton reports his crop prospects excellent.

Bullion has levied an assessment of fifty cents per share.

Judge Wells denies that he is a candidate for Lieutenant Governor.

The State Board of Examiners meet on Monday next, the 7th instant.

Eli Cohn, of Elko, was brought in and taken to the Asylum last evening.

A large number of the Reno boys are ticketed for the Caledonian picnic to-day.

Hereafter the outside stocks will be called at every session of the San Francisco Board.

The members of the Grand Lodge, K. of P., will be properly entertained while in Carson.

W. D. Hardin informs us the farmers of Pleasant Valley are ready to cut their second crop.

Do you want your palate tickled by a fine cobbler or punch? If so, go to Chase & Thyes, the best throat ticklers in Reno.

There will be a meeting and rehearsal at the Nevada Theatre this evening to prepare for Mr. Ring's reception. All of Mr. Ring's scholars, both old and new, are requested to be at the hall at 8 o'clock sharp.

The Index says the State Capitol square at this time presents a handsome appearance. Owing to the care and attention bestowed, the collections of flowers have grown most luxuriantly, and present a pleasing variegated picture to passers-by.

A Horrible Pun.

Yesterday afternoon Geo. W. Mapes and W. F. Berry entered into a match over a fine sack of potatoes which Mr. Mapes had brought from his ranch. Mr. Berry opened the ball, and picking up a five pound potato, such as Reno only can produce, stuck his molars into it and while chewing away at it as though it were the finest apple, or Judge Haydon's chew of tobacco, in the world, naively remarked: "what a beautiful potato, Berry, this is." W. F. immediately struck him on the head and deposited his remains with the coroner.

Encouraging.

The Appeal states that larger quantities of bullion than at any time during the past year are now being deposited at the Carson Mint from all parts of the State, and the outlook is that the Mint will be kept constantly in operation.

HONEY EASY MADE!

No Necessity to Work—Let Us All Become Tramps.

There seems to be an army of tramps who skirmish about town in detached squads, annoying every house of which they possess the slightest knowledge. Reputable citizens of Reno have been suffering from this evil for a week or two past, yet have allowed the nuisance to go on unnoticed. But these occurrences cannot forever remain unknown, and yesterday a JOURNAL reporter learned of an exceptionally aggravated one. Wm. Gale, a hard-working colored barbers who has his shop at No. 6, Virginia street, resides with his wife on East street in the suburbs of the town. Last evening, while he was busy engaged in shaving a customer, his wife rushed in pale and frightened and in an almost fainting condition. It seems that while she was engaged in sewing some one knocked on the door, and she asked who was there. The stranger demanded to be let in, whereupon she refused him admittance. He then tried to push in the door, and Mrs. Gale, opening the front door, rushed out and up town in search of the protection of her husband. The numerous tramps have been visiting around Mrs. Gale's door begging for "grub," and she has always satisfied them to the extent of her means. The other night as she was returning home with her husband a couple of men followed them as far as their house and prowled around the premises for at least an hour. As the house is situated on the outskirts of the town, it is not unlikely that some of the town or railroad tramps fraternally needing a little coin were extremely anxious to roll Mr. Gale. As he has besides been followed home on other occasions by strange individuals of whom he knew nothing, it will be well for Reno business men to keep a weather eye open whenever they leave their place of business and depart home every night.

Assault Upon a Justice.

Bob Lindsay wandered all around town yesterday afternoon in a bare-backed condition. During the trial of J. R. Dwyer vs. Carey, Bob's feelings so overcame him (for his eloquence is proverbial and frequently Carey's him away) that he carried himself away from his coat, and when Judge Young locked up his office Bob was minus a coat and had to wander about town in his shirt-sleeves, much to the astonishment of his lady friends, who must have thought he was on the war path after some delinquent. As Bob is one of the best known men in town everybody's eyes were upon him, so he hastened to Judge Young's house, and sitting down upon him as Court, Judge, Jury and Attorney, made him deliver over the official key. He recovered his coat and was happy.

Mrs. Gilpoody.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilpoody retired late a few evenings ago in a most pleasurable mutual condition. Just before taking a last turn over to snuggle the old lady remarked to her spouse: "Say, Jonathan, warn't them curious tracks at the State Prison? What did they put you in mind of, my love?"

"What tracks do you mean, my dear? I have never seen them?"

"Why, those big human tracks that the Reno JOURNAL is talking so much about."

"Oh, you mean the long twenty and thirty inch mud tracks. Why, they put me in mind of you when you have your slippers on."

A bar pulling tableau ensued, but everything was soon quieted.

A Curious Monstrosity.

Yesterday morning a three-legged dog, the property of C. Lemery of Quincy, disported around town, making the other four four-legged canines absolutely green with envy. When born he showed not the faintest vestige of a fourth leg, and not even of a hip bone. He jumps and hops around as freely as a more favored dog without the slightest suspicion of inconvenience. A number of Reno Dogtowners seeing him skipping and jumping around after his master yesterday morning, started after him in full howl and cry. He got the drop on them, however, for just as he was about to be chased up he whispered into the ear of the most vicious and aggravating: "Why is Reno like a bull terrier? Because it is a bully terrier to other towns in the State." They dropped dead immediately, the viciousness of the pun acting upon them like a dose of strychnine.

A Nice Hoof-Fall.

Down near the gas works, there is a dangerous hole in the plank bridge over the ditch. It is about the size of a hat, and a horse's hoof could go down through it with the greatest of ease. If the town of Reno cannot make any improvements in the streets, by all means let the authorities take care of what few ones they have already.

F. J. Prior, mail agent on the V. & T., goes below this evening to enjoy a short vacation. H. L. Swift, of the Virginia Postoffice, will act as agent during Mr. Prior's absence.

Hobart's Mysterious Death—The Inquest.

Last Thursday morning, as a JOURNAL reporter was meandering about town, he encountered a man little under the weather in the Palace Saloon. He claimed to be a teamster, and, starting out of the saloon, was about to step into a buggy, when he was collared by officers Avery and Hoy on a charge of murder. It seems that Hobart, after riding a short distance this side with Adams, was either thrown out or else fell out, the fall resulting in his instant death. Yesterday afternoon Adams was interviewed and gave the following statement.

"Just as I was carrying a jug of water from a small cabin in Long Valley up to my team I met Adams, who asked me if he could not ride with me. As I had no load, I readily granted the request, and he got on and rode as far as Bill Waltz's. Shortly after passing Lemmons' Hobart grasped the lines and recklessly wanted to manage the team. I demurred to that procedure, saying that I was doing the driving of that team. He immediately caught me by the back of the neck, saying: 'Damn you, if I had a knife I'd eat your throat.' He then squatted sideways on the front seat with his feet upon the cushion, when a sudden jolt of the wagon upset him sideways upon the road. Being full of beer I drove on, and appreciated nothing of what occurred till the inquest yesterday morning."

THE DEAD MAN.

Was a young individual of full visage and stout frame. He must have weighed about 170 or 180 pounds and was powerfully built. How he could have been almost instantly killed by a small sized man like Adams is a profound mystery. Adams during the interview with the JOURNAL reporter exhibited considerable reticence, and evidently was guarded in his sayings.

THE CORONER'S INQUIRY.

Yesterday afternoon a Coroner's Jury investigated the circumstances of Hobart's death, sitting in Justice Young's Court room. R. T. Leete, the first witness, testified:

"I visited the Peavine House and found this man (Hobart) on the road. I examined him; found him dead, and a large pool of blood had run from his head; his body lay outside the wagon track and both wheels had passed over his head, neck and face, close to his mouth. A man had passed Mr. Lemmons' ranch by the name of Adams; he represented to Mr. Lemmons that a drunken man had fallen off his wagon, and proposed to leave a satchel belonging to the drunken man; said that the drunken man would be along soon for it. Did not make any particular examination of the body, but noticed the wagon tracks. Saw the man Adams drive off at a lively pace as though the wagon was empty. Examined the pockets of the dead man and found a letter addressed to a Mr. McDonald of the Central House, Reno, by a Mr. Sherritt, the envelope of which bore the name of Hobart. I recognized him as a man whom I saw about three weeks ago going to Long Valley with Robert Ross. Think the body lay about 300 yards from the Peavine House, and was in Washoe county, of this State."

This statement covers the essential facts concerning the finding of the body. Besides Mr. Leete, Mr. Sanders, the undertaker, Dr. Bergman, Wellington Adams, the defendant, J. B. Wemple and Dr. Bishop all gave in their testimony. The jury returned a verdict to the effect that deceased came to his death accidentally, and Adams was accordingly discharged. Hobart was buried yesterday afternoon.

Additional Fair Premiums.

Condon & McIntosh—For—, 1,000 feet lumber, value $18.

Thos. E. Haydon—For best exhibit half bushel winter wheat, $5.

Dwyer, Skafe and Robertson—For turnrnnar, ladies fine hat, value $25.

H. L. W. Knox—For best exhibit of house plants, $10.

D. B. Boyd—For—, $5.

W. J. Luke—For the best display of mesh work, $5.

W. H. Dickens & Co.—For best display of cut flowers $5.

Return of Bishop Whitaker.

Bishop Whitaker returned yesterday morning from his annual visit throughout the entire State. This makes the thirteenth year of the Bishop's annual visitation. He has gone to the eastern part of Nevada when a stage trip was a dangerous undertaking, without finishing.

This is now the thirteenth annual visitation throughout Nevada that the Bishop has undertaken, and the churches built and proselytes made attest the earnestness of his Episcopate.

A Quince Favorite.

Clem. E. Lemery, an old time engineer of the C. P. at Reno and one of the first drivers of engines in the yard, is here on a visit and welcomed by scores and scores of friends. He is now the proprietor of the Quincy House and one of the most popular men in his county.

He returns home Sunday. Should any of the traveling public happen over this way they will do well to try Charlie's hospitality.

A Serious Accident.

Thursday afternoon an Italian named Andres Beateni met with a serious accident in Washoe Valley near Franktown. He was riding on a load of hay, when a stake by which he was holding on pulled out and he fell across the tongue of the wagon, striking on his spine and falling to the ground. One of the fore wheels passed over his head, badly cutting it and almost crushing the skull. Beateni was in the employ of Gildo Correco, the dairyman, who had the wounded man sent to Virginia City, where he is receiving every attention. Beateni being a strong, healthy young man, it is thought he may recover. So says the Virginia Chronicle.

Minister Daggett.

Hon. R. M. Daggett received his commission as Minister to Hawaii yesterday morning and will leave Virginia for San Francisco this evening, to proceed to his post. He was given a reception at the Washoe Club yesterday afternoon by a number of his friends, and was made the recipient of two handsome legation dogs, by Capt. Taylor, Gen. Forman and Mr. Stevenson, one "regulation" and one "storm." The presentation speech was made by C. C. Stevenson and responded to by Mr. Daggett in a happy manner. After the speeches came champagne and congratulations.

Cattle Shipping.

The Silver State announces that the first shipment of beef cattle from Winnemucca to San Francisco this season was made yesterday by W. B. Todhunter, who shipped about ninety head. Last season the cattle shipments from that station aggregated about 33,000 head, the greater part of which were shipped to California.

WHI Not Accept.

Capt. T. G. Taylor, Supt. of the Yellow Jacket, was a passenger for the Bay last night. To a JOURNAL reporter he stated that he would not accept the office of Governor if the certificate could be given him without the formality of a vote at the polls. He has no desire to neglect his business to engage in politics.

She's a Daisy Yet.

Both the pup and Daisy still live. The fine little animal at the Depot Hotel has evidently recovered from her indisposition and is as riotous as ever. It was a close call, however, for her, and had she passed in her checks, Mr. Chamberlain would surely have put his hotel in mourning for at least a day.

A Welcome Visit.

Charley E. Davis with his wife and child arrived here yesterday morning. Mrs. Davis is an old favorite here, having been in her girlhood days a belle in Dayton, Silver City, Gold Hill, Virginia and Reno. The many friends of Mrs. Davis are highly pleased at seeing her once more.

Another Premium.

Monsieur Bonnetto of the French Hotel, is determined apparently not to be left behind. He has issued a special premium of five dollars for the best exhibit of home made wine at the coming Fair. The old Frenchman is bound not to be left behind.

Tea and Silk.

Notwithstanding the quick time made by tea trains over the Southern route, more or less of the leaf is shipped over the Central Pacific yet. Dry before yesterday two trains, aggregating forty cars, loaded with tea and silk, went East.

The Elko Independent perpetrates this on Reno:

It is reported that a stranger in Reno in eating a plate of hash at one of their restaurants, being very hungry, unguardedly neglected to chew it well, and swallowed a large coat button. The physicians in that town doctor him for pneumonia for three days before he was able to explain. Then they fed him with a big button-hole tied to a string, and fished it out in no time. The boarders of that restaurant now screen their hash before eating, through a cano-botomed chair.

A Large and Choice Assortment of Bird Cages Just Received and for Sale by Osburn & Shoemaker.

The cheapest picture frames and picture and cornice mouldings in the town at Osburn & Shoemaker's

The best and cheapest sewing machines are to be had all the time at Osburn & Shoemaker's

A Chinaman who was defeated by some of his relatives in a suit at law concerning a burial ground murdered three of his opponents. The criminal was sentenced to death, but it is a principle of Chinese law that the punishment shall be as far as possible commensurate with the crime, and accordingly the criminal's wife was sent into penal servitude, and his son condemned to mutilation. His daughter, luckily for herself, was engaged to be married, and she was accordingly delivered to the family of her betrothed to be married when she comes of age; otherwise she would have had to share her mother's fate.

It is expected that Congress will adjourn sine die on next Monday at noon.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough Bronchitis, Asthma,

AND CONSUMPTION.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not one, but many nations, have certain medicinal virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a population or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

It has been known to the public about forty years, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill.

Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it for you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.
